PRICE, FIVE CENTS.

CATTLE DROWNED.

MANY HEAD OF STOCK LOST IN THE LATE FLOODS.

WHEAT SWEEP AWAY.

The Damage in Pettis County Will Aggregate Several Thousands of Dollars.

The floods of Tuesday night and yesterday have caused losses in Pettis county alone that will aggregate thousands of dollars, as is shown by information received today.

Editor Lon Luther, of the Lamonte Record, came to town this morning, and reports that Muddy creek was higher yesterday morning than it has been before in eighteen years, and the loss of stock, crops, fences, etc., in Lamonte township will reach several hundreds of dollars.

Chug Garton, who resides a few miles from Lamonte, had eighteen head of horses and cattle drowned, with no insurance on them.

Ira Mahan, living five and one-half miles southwest of Lamonte, had twenty acres of wheat in the shock and every sheaf of it was carried away.

The same fate befell Chas. Jackson, who resides three miles southeast of Lamonte, only he had sixty acres swept away instead of eight.

A farmer named Singer had a horse and calf drowned, and dozens of farmers had acre after acre of fences swept away by the floods.

Nearer at home, down on Flat creek, Henry Shaffer and Victor Boudier had their growing crops damaged to the extent of $500; but the published statement this morning, that the former gentleman had had one hundred head of hogs drowned, proves to be untrue. The porkers had a very close call, as they were surrounded by the raging torrents, but the water finally receded and the animals were saved.

Mr. Shaffer reports that a neighbor farmer on Flat creek lost twenty acres of wheat in the shock, and many others suffered smaller losses.

THE FINANCIAL SITUATION.

New York Chamber of Commerce Will Consider It To-day.

NEW YORK July 6.—Much interest is being manifested in the special meeting of the chamber of commerce called for to-day. The purpose of the meeting is to consider the present disturbed condition of the finances of the country, and to pass resolutions expressing the views of the chamber regarding the present state of things, and advising the course of action which the chamber should consider most timely and efficient for remedying existing evils.

Those members who are most actively urging the chamber to take a strong stand were busy bringing together men who represent interests in various parts of the nation.

A KENTUCKY HORROR.

Two Young Daughters of Farmer John Ray Brutally Outraged and Murdered—Two Arrests.

BARDWELL, Ky., July 6.—One of the most horrible crimes on record was committed near here yesterday. The scene of the crime is about three miles north, near the Illinois Central railroad, on the farm of John Gray, a substantial farmer. About 7:30 his daughters, Mary, aged 17, and Ruby, aged 8, went from the house to pick blackberries. When not 300 yards away and while gathering berries they were murdered in a most horrible manner. Their throats were cut, evidently with a long, sharp knife, after both had been outraged. The perpetrator of the crime left them in their own blood. The older one has a deep cut extending from about the middle of the abdomen down to the pelvis. After accomplishing his purpose on the 8-year-old girl the wretch threw her over the fence and the lifeless body rolled partially down the bank of the creek. It is not known whether they were attacked by one or two men, nor is the color known. Hundreds of men from this and neighboring towns are scouring the country, but no positive clew has been found. Two negroes who boarded a through freight here this morning have been arrested at Fulton, Ky. Great excitement prevails. If the parties are caught a scene similar to the Paris, Tex., affair of last spring will ensue.

Advices received late last night state the whole country is aroused. Men have left their husbandry and shouldered their guns, determined to have revenge. Three negro suspects are now jailed at Fulton. Another suspect is supposed to be in the woods not far from the scene of the murder. An area of 20 miles square is surrounded by a determined band who are gradually closing in. It is thought the felon will be captured before morning.

THE CASHIER SUICIDES.

He Takes His Life at Jerico With Morphine.

From the Nevada Mail.
Editor J. A. Stearns, of El Dorado, was here to-day. He says that Cashier Bashear, of the Jerico bank, killed himself at his home in that place yesterday. His suicide was accomplished with morphine, but the minor particulars were not known at El Dorado when he left there this morning. Dr. Dawson brought the news to El Dorado late yesterday evening.

Not Entirely Settled.

There are two suits still pending against Charles Kindervatter in the circuit court, brought by G. W. Barnett, father of the boy who was assaulted at the fair grounds according to the decision in Justice Blair's court this morning. One of the cases is for $400 damages, and the other is to replevin a wheel taken from Kindervatter for security. The wheel is owned by Mr. Rebenshied, of Kansas City.

Transfers of Realty.

The following transfers of realty were filed for record to-day:
David S. Hammond and wife to Abraham Harkins, 80 acres in section 6, township 44, range 21; $2500.
James C. Metts to James P. Selsol, piece of land in section 14, township 46, range 23; $1000.
John W. Conner, trustee, to John W. Marsh, lot 5, block 4, Ritchey's first addition; $150.
Emil Guenther et al to Jacob Mueller, 160 acres in section 25, township 45, range 22; $1957.41.

Off for the Springs.

Mrs. H. C. Demuth and children left this afternoon for McAlester Springs. Capt. Demuth has furnished a beautiful little cottage at the springs, which the family will occupy during the heated term.

Are Home Again.

Rev. J. S. Myers and family returned from Kansas City, where they have been the guests of Rev. T. M. Myers and family for the past four days.

Appreciated Hospitality.

Before leaving yesterday, the visiting cyclists passed resolutions complimentary to the Sedalia cyclists, Sicher & Conrad, the dining room employes of the hotel, the press in general and the DEMOCRAT in particular. Prof. Lenzen, Henry Leist, George Wright, Chas. L. Taylor, Billy Wilson and others who helped to make their stay pleasant. A more perfect lot of gentlemen than the cyclists never visited Sedalia, and when they return on July 22 they should be greeted by large crowds.

BLOUNT MARKED.

ANNEXATIONISTS THREATEN HIS LIFE.

SPRECKLES WARNED.

A Placard Posted Saying Gold Will Not Stop Lead—Conspirators Arrested.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 6.—Advices from Honolulu says: Developments of the past six days have been three arrests for conspiracy to overthrow the provisional government, a threat against the life of Claus Spreckles and the organization of a society within the ranks of the annexationists for the purpose of shooting down certain royalists in the event of an open attack upon the present government. Claus Spreckles found on his gate a few days ago a placard ornamented with skull and cross bones and bearing the inscription, "Gold and silver will not stop lead." He laid the matter before Minister Blount, and the latter forwarded Spreckles' statement to the provisional government.

The names of the persons arrested for conspiracy are T. B. Walker, F. C. Crick and Archibald Livelain. They are all English, and the British consul was disposed to interfere in their behalf, but dropped the matter when informed of the nature of the charges. The government claims to have evidence against those men showing they were forming a plot to blow up the government buildings, and then shoot down the annexationists when they should rush to the scene. A large number of persons are being watched by the authorities. Six or seven hundred annexationists have formed a "Citizens' reserve." They are armed with rifles and have

The Case Hotly Contested.

The case of Charles Kindervatter, the Kansas City wheelman charged with assault and battery upon Bruce Barnett, son of Attorney G. W. Barnett, came up in Justice Blair's court this morning. The difficulty arose over young Barnett's grabbing the bicycle which Kindervatter was riding through the park gate, causing him to fall from it. Kindervatter then struck the boy. Young Barnett had been employed to watch the gate. The plaintiff was represented this

The boy did not have the reins in his hands at the time, and as the horse was galloping the young fellow was thrown several somersaults before he finally stopped rolling. The horse came closely after him, and before the boy could get to his feet he was struck over the eye by the horse's hoof. He was taken into the residence of S. B. Spencer, where his injuries were attended by Dr. Jos. Patt.

Considerable sarcasm was indulged in by the attorneys during the progress of the case, much to the amusement of the audience. Mr. Kindervatter pleaded guilty and was fined $20 and costs, making a total of $32.20, which he paid.

Struck by His Horse.

Yesterday a fourteen-year-old son of A. R. Krensky came near meeting with a serious accident at the corner of Fourth and Kentucky. He was riding a blind horse, and as

The animal had unseated its rider, and was being carried down stream quite rapidly, when Mr. Healey made an accurate throw with a rope with which he had provided himself and caught the horse around the neck, thus permitting him to pull it to shore.

Official Paper of the City of Sedalia.

SECRETARY HOKE SMITH will make a tour of the west.

Don't leave a single dilapidated sidewalk in Sedalia.

It is claimed that the World's fair cannot be run on less than $16,000 per day.

MERCHANTS in the republic of Mexico are clamoring for a reduction of tariff duties.

CONGRESSMAN HENDRIX, of New York, boldly declares in favor of a single gold standard. He is the first congressman to come from cover.

RUSSELL SAGE is said to be making a profit of $20,000 per day on call loans. Russell knows how to take advantage of the single gold standard.

THE Chautauqua was not largely attended, but there is no reason to believe that it would have been more successful if held anywhere else in the state this year.

THE farmers of Western Kansas are again appealing for aid. They have again petitioned the governor to call an extra session of the legislature to take measures for their relief.

CHICAGO expects to make from $120,000,000 to $150,000,000 off of visitors to the World's fair during the next four months. A more accurate calculation can probably be made about the first of November.

IF INSTEAD of going to sea, President Cleveland had taken a trip to the Rocky Mountains and stopped off at some of the industrial centers in the west he would have learned something of the effect his war on silver is having in the west.

THE newly appointed governor general of Siberia is visiting the World's fair and nihilists in this country are plotting to kill him. This country has nothing to do with the war between the czar and the victims of his oppression, but the killings must be done elsewhere.

MANY Missourians who have attended the World's fair say that one of the greatest wonders of the exposition is how the Missouri building could have cost forty-thousand dollars. They say the building and arrangements are by no means creditable to the state.

A PERTINENT question just now is, if we demonetize silver and leave our banking laws as they are, where are we to get money to do the business of the country? During the past twelve months there has been an actual decrease, in spite of the millions issued every month under the operations of the Sherman law.

IF GOVERNOR ALTGELD's ears tingled on Sunday because the various pastors took up the cudgel against him, says the St. Joseph Gazette, he may feel comforted in the action of Rev. Dr. Snowden of Sterling, Kan., who prayed for him. He prayed a left-handed prayer, though, for he said "Be light to him in his darkness, wisdom to him in his ignorance, but above all, make his heart as soft as his head."

JUDGE PHILLIPS has released the St. Clair county judges in order that they may go home and hold an election on a proposed compromise of the county's indebtedness. If the taxpayers refuse to accept the compromise the judges will be again incarcerated in jail, but Judge Phillips says he will send them to some county where they will be more closely confined and not so leniently treated as they were in Jackson county.

OUR Wall street friends who seem bent upon securing the adoption of a financial policy framed for the purpose of making a dear dollar and a cheap man, should remember that poverty breeds anarchy, socialism and communism, and the harder the screws are put upon the producing masses the less patriotism and love of country exists among the people, and the stronger becomes the antagonism between the classes. The man who must labor day after day, without hope of better things, and always return to his home to gaze upon suffering and misery that he cannot relieve, is in a good condition to try experiments. He feels that no social or political upheaval can injure him or his.

NOT THE SHERMAN BILL.

The speech of Hon. T. M. Patterson, of Denver, at the court house last night was in many respects an able argument for bi-metalism, and, in the main, a splendid statement of the position of western democrats on the silver question.

The request, however, that the voters of Sedalia adopt a resolution asking their representatives to stand by the Sherman bill until some measure more favorable to silver is offered, is one that will not meet with a favorable response in Missouri.

The Sherman bill is admittedly not a free coinage measure; it was a bait offered to the silver miners and swallowed by them; it debases silver and makes it a mere commodity; in the hands of an administration unfavorable to silver, it can be manipulated so as to continually cast discredit upon the white metal; the addition to the circulating medium furnishes a convenient means for ridding the treasury of gold and will eventuate in an issue of gold bonds; the bill is wrong in principle and vicious in practice, and every day it continues in force but weakens the cause of free coinage, with silver as low as it is now.

Whatever advantage it may be to the mine owner, it is not a step toward free coinage, and free coinage democrats are not called upon to defend it; nor are they responsible for its effects upon the country unless by their votes they perpetuate it.

There is to be one of the hardest contests on the silver question the country has ever seen, and western democrats who hope for free coinage cannot afford to handicap themselves with the support of a vicious law.

Missouri has an able and faithful delegation in congress and can safely trust the members to do effective work, in their own way, toward securing real bi-metalism—the free and unlimited coinage of gold and silver at a fair ratio.

To fetter these congressmen with instructions at this time would be folly of the rankest sort.

As it is, they will take advantage of every opportunity to bring about free coinage and they can safely be trusted to do this in their own way.

If the representatives from the silver mining states had remained proof against the blandishments of John Sherman, and stood with the Missouri delegation for free coinage instead of seeking merely a market for the products of their mines, they would have been in much better condition to-day and free coinage would have been stronger.

Having made a mistake themselves, they must not expect free coinage democrats to follow them in their error.

HON. T. M. PATTERSON AFTER THE GOLD BUGS.

SPEAKS AT COURT HOUSE.

Hon. H. L. Loucks Talks of the Farmers' Alliance and Its Purposes.

The circuit court room at the court house was filled last evening with a large audience to hear Hons. T. M. Patterson, of Colorado, upon the silver question, and H. L. Loucks upon the Farmers' Alliance. The Sedalia Military band furnished excellent music for the occasion. Prosecuting Attorney Louis Hoffman presided and introduced the speakers. Hon. T. M. Patterson was the first speaker of the evening. He gave the reasons for his change of political front in the last election and stated that when he voted with the populists he was voting for bi-metalism. He outlined the primitive conditions of the people and the origin of money as they advanced. It had been found that only metal money was practicable, and the scarcity and difficulty of getting gold and silver made them the most desirable for use. The credit money of the country, which consists of greenbacks, etc., must be based upon metal money which has intrinsic value because it represents labor. Credit money must rest upon that of ultimate redemption, and when it is known that there are $9 of credit money to every $1 of gold and silver ultimate redemption becomes a serious matter. While confidence exists in the commercial world, these notes and checks will be sufficient for the needs of business, but when that confidence is gone there will come a financial crisis, and the people will grab for gold for safety.

The demonetization of silver by Great Britain increased the wealth of the moneyed class by one-third. Money is as much a commodity as wheat or corn and is regulated by the same laws of supply and demand. As an illustration, a man borrows $1000 on a $3,000 property during the time when free coinage of silver is in effect. The demonetization of silver lessens the circulating medium which increases in value as does corn when the latter is scarce. Property decreases in value as a result and when the borrower's note becomes due it is often the case that his property is worth but little more than the face of the note.

Listening to England, Germany demonetized silver after she had been paid immense sums of ransom money in gold by France. Then came the Sherman law in the United States, secured by fraud and without the knowledge of Grant, the president, Blaine, the speaker of the house, Garfield, Voorhees and many others whose statements to that effect are now recorded in the history of the gigantic swindle. As a result the values of farm products, live stock and real estate have gradually diminished since 1873; their values have fled because the gold kings of the world have succeeded in destroying one-half the money of ultimate redemption; their money has twice its former value.

Senator Vest of Missouri was at one time one of the most eloquent and logical champions of free silver, but the sweets of public patronage have undermined his loyalty to the people. There are, however, a number of senators and congressmen with Bland at their head for whom the fear of presidential disfavor has no terrors. I love a brave, manly man; I hate a sneak and a coward.

The efforts of those opposed to free silver are now concentrated upon the silver purchase act to divert attention from the real subject at issue. The silver purchase act was adopted to prevent free coinage. It is a vicious law, but it places millions of dollars in circulation which would not otherwise come about and it should be supported as the lesser of the two evils until the law demonetizing silver is repealed. Let the silver purchase act alone be repealed and sojournly the country is fixed upon a gold basis which nothing but a bloody revolution will change.

Let free silver be coined, and in ninety days the financial hardships will be lessened and better times will be felt all over the land. The address was closed by an appeal to the people to instruct their representatives to oppose the repeal of the Sherman silver purchase bill until til some measure more favorable to silver is offered as a substitute.

H. L. Loucks, president of the Farmers' Alliance, then spoke upon the purposes of his party and declared strongly in favor of free silver.

The audience at the Christian church was charmed last evening by the sweet singing of the Smith Sisters, who gave the first of a series of four concerts. The sisters, six in number, are certainly the most remarkable musical family on record. Miss Gertrude, the leading soprano of the sextette, has a sweet voice of great power. That the entire company is one of the finest that has ever visited Sedalia was the verdict of all who heard the concert. They will appear this and to-morrow evening, with an entire change of programme each evening, and deserve a crowded house.

TWO HANDSOME FLAGS.

They Were Received by Major Wasson Yesterday and Have an Interesting History.

Major J. R. Wasson yesterday received two handsome silken flags to which exceedingly pleasant memories are attached.

One is a plain light-blue banner, elegantly made, and was offered as a prize in a six-oared, three-mile rowing match on the Hudson river at West Point, N. Y., in June, 1870.

The second, a dark-blue silken flag, was offered as a special prize to the winning team, and bears the following words in beautifully shaded letters of gold: "From the Ladies of West Point Hotel, June 11, 1870."

The contesting teams were made up of six men each from the West Point Graduating and Junior classes, Major Wasson being one of the latter. So confident were the ladies of the West Point hotel of the Graduating team's prowess that they expended a goodly sum in having the special flag made, feeling assured that it would be won by their heroes of the military school.

The race was rowed in the presence of more than 6,000 people, and the Juniors furnished the surprise of the day by winning with comparative ease, lowering the then college record. The flags were presented to the winner by the late Admiral David R. Porter, the occasion being a memorable one in the history of West Point athletic sports.

It was then decided by the Junior crew that the flags should be retained for the first year by the senior member of the crew, the second year by the second senior member, and so on through the list in rotation, so continuing until all of the victors were claimed by death.

Since then three of the crew have died, leaving only Major Wasson, Wallace Mott and Thos. Knox, the two latter still being connected with the army. That Major Wasson exhibits the trophies with a good deal of pleasure and pride is not surprising, and that they will occupy conspicuous positions in his office for the next year is assured.

Dr. L. Bremer, of St. Louis, Mo., in an article published in the April number of the Bacteriological World, at Battle Creek, Mich., says:

"Whoever has seen with what utter disregard to the simplest hygienic precautions that natural ice is gathered, must be astonished, if he be familiar with the mental teachings of bacteriology, that epidemic diseases are not more frequent. I am sure that to the tumbler and the ice box are traceable many a case of typhoid and diphtheria. The ice box especially offers the greatest opportunities for food contamination."

Perfect Constitutional Powers.
Its extraordinary curative power manifests itself almost immediately it is taken. On this point the evidence of those who have taken it is uniform and positive. They say they can feel the effect of every dose doing them good. It is a powerful nerve invigorating tonic, inspiring its restorative influence through the medium of the nervous system to every organ and tissue in the body. It makes but little difference whether the broken down condition is called by one name or other,
as long as there is nervous exhaustion, general or local weakness—so long as enervation and debility are the type of the ailment, this is the remedy.
THOSE WHO SUFFER from the results of over-mental or physical exertion, hardship, exposure, hidden drains, caprice, or who have brought upon themselves a series of afflictions by ignorance or willfully violating nature's laws, will find in Caton's Nerve Tonic and Vitalizer the remedy for their certain relief. It speedily removes all evidences of progressive physical deterioration and restores the enfeebled energies to their natural vigor.
WHENEVER THERE IS any weakness of the vital organs, nervousness, prostration of the physical or mental energies, confusion of ideas, lack of self-confidence, irritability of temper, melancholy,
cowardice, weakness of the knees and back, palpitation of the heart, dragging pain in the loins, headache, irritation of the kidneys and bladder, milky urine, pernicious and hidden wastes, resulting in a failure of the mental and physical powers, constituting an impediment to success and unfitting him or her for the duties and responsibilities of life, it is the remedy par excellence.
A single package will be sufficient to inaugurate the work of regeneration, and cure in many cases. But stubborn cases often require more. It will be sent, postpaid, secured

A TERRIBLE NIGHT.

IT WAS SPENT AT THE WARRENSBURG WASHOUT.

DICK DALTON WAS "IN IT."

He Relates His Rather Unpleasant Experience—A Night Never Before Witnessed.

The cloud burst or waterspout two and one-half miles east of Warrensburg Tuesday night was even more terrible than reported in the DEMOCRAT last evening. Among the passengers on belated Missouri Pacific train No. 4 was Hon. Richard Dalton, who is thus quoted in the St. Louis Republic of this morning:
"Our train left Colon on time. It was the through Missouri Pacific with sleepers. I was in a forward car when we reached Warrensburg. It was raining a little as we entered the cars at Colon, but at Warrensburg it was coming down in force. The water was running over the depot platform three feet deep and the engine threw it aside in great sheets. When we were four miles from Warrensburg, in the valley, two of the coaches were derailed. I have heard of cloud bursts, but never could understand what was meant until then. It was a perfect deluge.

"Knowing we should be there some time, I went back to one of the sleepers and went to bed. I was just about falling to sleep when the conductor came in and yelled, 'You people get out of here, and mighty quick, too—no words about it, but get!' I sprang into some clothes and went into the forward coach, and there I saw a sight I never wish to behold again. A torrent of water was running over the track and with a terrific roar. In a few minutes the embankment under the sleepers was gone, and the cars began to sink. They did not go out of sight, but how far I could not see. If they had been top heavy with passengers I have no doubt they would have turned over into the torrent, and the lives of all on board been lost.

"The water kept rising for some time, and, to add to the danger, one of the forward cars took fire from the explosion of an oil can. The fire was kept under control by the trainmen and others by saturating the car with water. By this time the water was running under the other coaches like a mill race. I picked out a puny little woman and her infant, and selecting a stout telegraph pole made up my mind if it came to the worst that it should be my anchorage and I would try to save that weak woman and child. It did not come to the worst, though at one time it looked as if Uncle Sam was going to lose a mighty fine officer and President Cleveland would have another vacancy to fill. The train is due here at 6:40 in the morning but did not arrive until 11 o'clock."

Narrow Escape From Drowning.
Last night Charles Warren attempted to swim his horse across Flat creek, at the road crossing near the narrow gauge bridge, when the animal became entangled in some wire and the rider was thrown into the water. Notwithstanding that the stream was greatly out of its banks, Mr. Warren swam to the shore and the horse was also rescued.

Decided By Chance.
At the opening of his silver speech last evening, Hon. T. M. Patterson, of Denver, stated that he was last in Sedalia about twenty-five years ago. At that time Sedalia was by far the most important town between St. Louis and Kansas City. He remained here forty-eight hours and felt that here was destined to arise the greatest city in the central part of this great commonwealth. Its location and its resources pointed in this direction. He proceeded further west to Denver, still looking for a location. After he had carefully looked over the field, he found that in that vast area of territory west of the Mississippi there were three locations which attracted him—Sedalia, Kansas City and Denver. He returned to his home at Crawfordsville, Indiana, and prepared three slips of paper with the names of these places upon them. His wife drew one of the slips and upon it was "Denver." He went west, where fame and fortune have been showered upon him.
